// Sustainable Justice Ratings Guide:

The SJ Committee has been working on a custom methodology or scoring system to specifically evaluate justice facilities within the context of sustainable principles that uniquely expands the definition of leadership for sustainable environments, communities, and society at-large. The rating system is based on four scales: The Societal Scale; The Community Scale; The Facility Scale; and The Human Scale. The next step is to develop a scoring/weighting structure for the ratings criteria and engage various industry partners in its implementation in case studies.

Please join our discussion to strategize next steps for the Sustainable Justice (SJ) Ratings Guide, Client Outreach, and other Sustainable Justice goals for 2013!

Please BYO lunch or $15 donation

// Client Outreach:

The Committee is also developing real “nuts-and-bolts” educational material specifically geared toward facility owners and operators and their concerns with performance and sustainability issues of site, water, energy, materials and resources, indoor environmental quality and life cycle costing. The outreach focuses on viable implementation of specific sustainable principles, metrics, and measurable outcomes for design and operational solutions using precedent gleaned from successful justice facility design and operation across the country. The tools will include brochures and videos that can go viral and reach even beyond our current clients.

3 MINUTES OF FAME

Do you have 3 minutes and a story about sustainability you would like to share? We want to hear from you! We’re gathering project case study stories to integrate into a video project for our client outreach. The purpose is to increase industry facility and owner and operator awareness of successful sustainable justice principles in action. Look for us at the conference registration desk and sign up for a time to talk. No script is needed—just bring your ideas, editing will follow.
